

Advanced CPT Coding for Doctors & Staff

Current Procedural Terminology, CPT, is the coding basis for most medical and surgical services and procedures. Participants will learn how CPT is organized, how to properly determine a code from a brief description of the service and how to use the main sections of the book. Participants will learn key definitions of common services and situations. This program is an advanced course on CPT designed for surgeons and staff and there will be a particular emphasis on the use of case studies to fully demonstrate a process for defining and coding difficult CPT cases.

This Practice Management Webconference is just $99 for Members & their Practices:

- | = A 90-minute live Webconference including a formal presentation and time for Q&A
- | = The course is given once as a live Webconference, on Wednesday February 27, 2008 (convenient for your staff) and then via streaming Internet technologies shortly thereafter. Your $99 registration fee covers either one or both presentations and handout materials.
